Prevent duty for catering staff

What is your Prevent duty?

This brief guide is to help you as catering staff understand the responsibilities around the Prevent duty and who to contact to get help if you are worried or unsure about anything.

Complying with the Prevent duty includes promoting and exemplifying British values: i.e. democracy, rule of law, individual liberty, tolerance and mutual respect and different faiths and beliefs. This includes not discriminating against the following nine groups as set out in the Equality Act 2010:

This includes complying with the Equality Act 2010 and preventing discrimination against those with protected characteristics:

- age;
- disability;
- gender reassignment;
- marriage and civil partnership;
- pregnancy and maternity;
- race;
- religion or belief;
- sex;
- sexual orientation.¹

All staff and volunteers must attend Safeguarding and Prevent duty training as identified or provided by your institution.

All staff and volunteers must report any Safeguarding and Prevent concerns to the named staff responsible.

All staff and volunteers are expected to uphold the values embedded within the Equality Act 2010 at all times. They should use any relevant opportunities to promote the British values of: democracy, rule of law, individual liberty, tolerance and mutual respect for different faiths and beliefs².

If you have concerns then always refer them to the appropriate Prevent (normally the Safeguarding) team internally.

As catering staff you will see behaviour of which other staff may not be aware. You should use your professional judgement to decide when concerns should be referred to the Safeguarding team.

All staff and volunteers must report any Safeguarding and Prevent concerns to the named staff responsible.

Identification of concerns might include the following, although this list is not exhaustive:

- Individual and group behaviour which gives you cause for concern
- Expression of views which are discriminately against protected groups or individuals
- Third party reports of concerns about behaviour e.g. plans to travel abroad or extremist activities
- Evidence of discriminately treatment of other groups or individuals
- Evidence of bullying behaviour or harassment
- Evidence of non-compliance with the providers expectations of behaviour
- Possessing, accessing extremist materials.
- Evidence of family concern about vulnerability to extremism
- Expression of extremist views including on Facebook.
- Use of extremist language
- Threats of violence

If you have further questions or have a Prevent or Safeguarding concern then talk to a member of the Prevent (normally Safeguarding) team. They are there to help and support you.
