

Cycle of Discrimination and Radicalisation

The diagram below shows how prejudices lead to discrimination and the link this has with radicalisation, extremism and terrorism

Example of how discrimination leads to terrorism:

You have an opinion of a specific group → you discriminate against them → they develop grievances against you/society → they're drawn to extreme groups offering a 'solution' to their grievance → they're radicalised by the group and join their cause