Prevent duty for sports and enrichment staff

What is your Prevent duty?

This brief guide is to help sports and enrichment staff to understand the responsibilities around the Prevent duty and who to contact to get help if you are worried or unsure about anything.

Complying with the Prevent duty includes promoting and exemplifying British values: i.e. democracy, rule of law, individual liberty, tolerance and mutual respect and different faiths and beliefs. This includes not discriminating against the following nine groups as set out in the Equality Act 2010:

- age;
- disability;
- gender reassignment;
- marriage and civil partnership;
- pregnancy and maternity;
- race;
- religion or belief;
- sex;
- sexual orientation.<sup>1</sup>

All staff and volunteers must attend Safeguarding and Prevent duty training as identified or provided by your institution.

All staff and volunteers must report any Safeguarding and Prevent concerns to the named staff responsible.

All staff and volunteers are expected to uphold the values embedded within the Equality Act 2010 at all times. They should use any relevant opportunities to promote the British values of: democracy, rule of law, individual liberty, tolerance and mutual respect for different faiths and beliefs<sup>2</sup>.

If you have concerns then always refer them to the appropriate Prevent (normally the Safeguarding) team internally.

As enrichment staff you establish different working relationships with students in non-class time. You may become aware of behaviour and information of which other staff are unaware. You may should use your professional judgement to decide if and when it is appropriate to refer concerns to the Safeguarding team.

Identification of concerns might include the following, although this list is not exhaustive:

- Activities or comments above and beyond normal behaviour which gives concern to you as a professional.
